NEW UNIQUELY-DESIGNED JVC IPOD® DOCK FEATURES DOLBY VIRTUAL SURROUND

New JVC XS-SR3 "personal theater" holds iPod's vertically or horizontally.

December 16, 2009 – A new JVC iPod® speaker system features a unique wraparound design, Dolby Virtual Surround, and a dock that like most docks holds an iPod® vertically for music listening, but also can cradle it horizontally – ideal for widescreen viewing of video.

The new JVC XS-SR3 surround dock is a sleek, glossy black speaker tube with a curved design that allows the iPod® to nestle between the speakers. The iPod® holder rotates for viewing video in widescreen mode and comes with four clips to hold selected iPod® models. The speakers' powerful neodymium magnets ensure clean, crisp sound, while Dolby Virtual Surround creates the illusion of a wider sound field when viewing video content. Power output is five watts and the system features two audio inputs, one analog and one digital optical. A remote control is included.

In addition to its function as an iPod® speaker dock, the XS-SR3 can also be used as computer speaker system.

The JVC XS-SR3 is available this month for $199.99.
