JVC Introduces New Stylish Dual Dock System for iPad® and iPhone® / iPod®

TORONTO, ONT. July 28, 2011 – JVC has recently announced the launch of the UX-VJ3, a unique dual dock system which allows customers to dock an iPad® and iPhone®/iPod® simultaneously. In addition, the UX-VJ3 charges the connected devices.

JVC UX-VJ3

Available in black or white, the UX-VJ3 features a sleek design with side-by-side iPad® and iPhone®/iPod® docks that blend into a full-width LED illuminated base where the system's controls are located. The iPhone®/iPod® dock can be positioned vertically or horizontally for viewing convenience. In addition to its 30 watts of power and separate speakers, the UX-VJ3 features an AM/FM tuner, a video output for direct connection to a TV, a USB PC input, a subwoofer output, four sound modes (rock/pop/classical/jazz), a surround sound mode and a "Sound Turbo" function for extra bass. Other devices can also be connected for playback through the auxiliary audio input. For even more versatility, the UX-VJ3 includes a full function remote control, clock, sleep timer and wake-up timer.

The JVC UX-VJ3 is now available in Canada with a suggested retail price of $249.99.
